

A Long Hot Summer for Corrupt Prosecutors like Lori Rieman & William Preston Marshall

It's becoming common knowledge that New York State has established itself as the second leading state in wrongful convictions, costing state taxpayers hundreds of millions of dollars in wrongful conviction settlements, which does not even include the cost to counties to negotiate the settlements. Quite the distinction. And it's not getting any better.

Click here to read the rest of the story...